

AWARD WINNING WINERY TOUR

While Nova Scotia is a relatively new arrival on the international winery scene, so far it has proven to be very successful. Despite the cooler climate, our soil and mesoclimates help to create premium quality grapes – some of the best in North America! Nova Scotia has over 70 grape growers, and many of the wineries and vineyards are within an hour of the South Shore. Sit back and relax and we'll drive you to some of the best in the Province to sample and/or purchase some unique Nova Scotia wines.

First, we will travel across Nova Scotia to the fertile and tranquil Annapolis Valley. Our first stop will be at the Blomidon Estate Winery, located in Canning. From there we will head up the North Mountain to the infamous Blomidon Look-off for outstanding views over the Valley – if only a camera was invented that could capture to magnificence of this massive and colourful view! Once we pull ourselves away from the Look-off we'll pass through the quaint town of Wolfville to the Muir-Murray Estate Winery.

From there we will leave the Annapolis Valley and head to the Gaspereau Valley where we will visit your lunch stop, Luckett Vineyards. After a visit to L'Acadie we'll make our final stop at the Gaspereau Valley Vineyard.

Please note that the cost of lunch and wine-tastings are not included in the tour cost.
